Old & New Kent HQ: ratings chart and positivity playlist

By Kent Roberts

I just moved to Minneapolis Whittier HQ from Minneapolis Longfellow HQ, where I've been for a year. The new HQ gets a lower score, with an average 1-to-10 drop of 0.625. The rating system is flawed. I believe in this new Kent HQ. I demand a reassessment by Kent Project Manager Kent Roberts and his team.

	Old HQ	New HQ

From Kent Sonic Therapist Kent Roberts: Here are some songs I used to inform the new space that it is now a place of positivity:

- Jain: Heads Up, Makeba, Come
- George Michael: Freedom
- Eels: Premonition, Today is the Day, Fresh Feeling
- Jimmy Cliff: I Can See Clearly Now
- Iron & Wine: Lion's Mane, Upward Over the Mtn.

From Kent Sentimentality Spokeperson Kent

Roberts: "I had a premonition / That we're gonna get by / You and I have a love / That never can die." – "Premonition." As I listened to these lyrics, my eyes started to tear up as I realized I am getting a dog, and that I will be moving south at the end of the lease to be back near KentSon. KentFather will need to outmaneuver cancer with KentMother & KentSister.

From Kent Publisher Kent Roberts: This new Kent HQ is the 25th Kent HQ. Examples: Providence Andrew/Jean-Paul/Lisa HQs, Gainesville (Justin) HQ; Prospect Park (KentSonMother) HQ; Austin Jollyville (KSM) HQ; Hollywood HQ; and St. Pete Eric HQ.

Goodbye Kent HQ #24 + incredible tree

By Kent Roberts

The tree next door and I had an understanding. I would occasionally open the window and tell it I loved it. In turn, the tree would radiate its brilliance toward me. The tree was in Kent Former Neighbor (KFN) Sharon's yard. KFN Sharon was very nice. I will miss her yard as I return to the parking lot-and-dumpster vistas of the concrete jungle. However, I do plan to visit the park every day.

"I would... tell it I loved it. In turn, the tree would radiate its brilliance toward me."

Kentphorisms:

“Give me liberty, or give me on-demand intergalactic benevolent-ET-collaborative transport.”

bacKent

Kentphorism:

“You don’t know what you have until you subtract your debt from the $800 in your bank account.”

3 rules for my life moving forward

By Kent Roberts

Rule #1 – Decorate like you mean it.

Rule #2 – Stop focusing so much on pursuing your dreams. Get your finances straight. Check a few things off a to-do list you downloaded from a cloud AI mobile cyborg version of Satan. Rule #3 – Get better at not distracting the person next to you when you sit down in a coffeeshop to madly scribble Kentnotes.

Nell continues to put out the Nell publication

By Kent Roberts

So far, the only mail I’ve received in the PO Box is from Nell or referencing Nell, the first-ever

Kent spinoff, an ongoing monthly (!!!) by Nell, a college student in Michigan. The only exception is an anonymous postcard that stated it was a love note. I’ve wrestled with the idea of Kent-reader privilege in coverage of the PO Box. Kentmunication ethics are confusing. I assume people think I may publish what they send. Hm.

Resistance corner: self-interview on pro-multiculturalism film

By Kent Roberts

Kent: How you feeling about this move?

Kent: I’ve written

“Kent is a public whisper.” – Kent Roberts

before about how I’m donating 33.33% of proceeds from my 1st feature film (now out Oct. 16, Multicultural Diversity Day) to a nonprofit. Kent: Wait, what? Kent: I’m making a movie about setting off with Kent Friend Eric, as teenagers, to meet Kurt Vonnegut, through Cape Cod and back to Indiana. Kent: Um, dude, you just gave away the plot. Kent: Not really. Kent: Sure sounded like it. No “spoiler alert”... Kent: Just the synopsis.

Kent: And why are you talking about a movie in Kent? This isn’t a promo channel to exploit. Kent: I thought – Kent: It’s not all about you, you jackass! [storms out; reenters braying & making donkey ears; then trots back out to munch on some barley straw.]
